

50TH STATE AFTER 40 YEARS — Partially unprepared for the unexpectedly speedy action of the U.S. Congress, citizens of Hawaii worked feverishly on final preparations for a gala celebration to mark the victorious end of their 40-year battle to become one of the United States. The first unsuccessful Hawaiian statehood bill was introduced in Congress in 1919. Hawaii's 613,000 residents will be represented in Congress by two senators and one representative. Hawaii has a land area slightly larger than Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

Hawaii Becomes 50th State!

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hawaiian Islands will become the nation's 50th state within the year. Congress answered the territory's half-century of pleading for statehood Thursday with a resounding 323-89 vote in the House. The Senate assented a day earlier with a 76-15 vote.

President Eisenhower gets the bill today. His approval is certain. Presidential secretary James C. Hagerty said the President is delighted.

In four to six months Hawaii could be a full partner in the union. It will take that long to set up elections for the nearly 600,000 people to choose their first state officers, their two U.S. senators and one representative in the House. Hawaii will qualify for a second House seat after the 1960 census.

There is a maximum time schedule set out in the state constitution which the people of Hawaii, tired of waiting, adopted in 1950. The maximum is 160 days between the date the President signs the bill and the date of the general election. The actual time could be less.

Gov. William F. Quinn, 12th and last presidentially appointed governor of Hawaii, said he is inclined to favor a schedule on the slow side. He said he thought that would be preferred by political leaders of both parties to get good candidates in the field. Quinn is a Republican and a candidate for governor. It is up to him to set the election dates.

John A. Burns, Hawaii's Democratic delegate to Congress, said he favored the shortest possible preliminaries to the ultimate proclamation of the President formally admitting the islands to statehood. "Hawaii is tired of living under the shackles of the appointive governor system," he said.

Burns, undoubtedly a candidate for something, has not said which office he will seek.

Hawaii will have other things to vote on, besides officers.

They must decide:

1. Whether they want statehood. (they voted for it 2-1 in a plebiscite 19 years ago, but they must vote again.)

2. Whether to accept the boundaries defined by Congress. This excludes Palmyra Island, a tiny, privately owned, coral atoll 960 miles south of Honolulu.)

3. Whether to accept the federal land grants and reservations specified in the statehood bill.

Ike Asks Nearly $4 Billion For Foreign Aid Spending

Teays Valley, Westfall Boards Lose Nearly $87,000 in State School Aid

Teays Valley and Westfall School Districts have come up $87,000 short in state aid. As a result, the two districts are operating on the proverbial "shoestring."

Judson Lanman, superintendent of Westfall District, announced the loss of approximately $37,000 in state foundation money that was included in the district's 1959 budget.

Earl R. Gregg, superintendent of Teays Valley, stated his district lost nearly $50,000 that was counted upon for 1959 operations.

Due to the loss of money, the two school boards have reduced services.

Both executives stated that school children will be hurt by this loss of expected current operating funds.

Boards of the two districts have been in session, as of late, to find ways of cutting the budget without shutting down the schools, weeks or possibly months early.

MANY FRINGE benefits and extended services have been halted. Planned improvements are still just planned. School operations will be accomplished with the reduced income, the superintendents said.

The Westfall and Teays Valley boards erred in anticipating receipts by assuming they would receive as much state foundation money in 1959 as they did in 1958 which was $197,716.78 for Teays Valley and $142,000 in Westfall.

Instead, the state dropped its help to $147,495.78 for Teays Valley and $105,000 to Westfall. The two boards' thinking was just the opposite of Robert L. Roy's, State Director of School Finance. They believed they were entitled to support equal to that of 1957 until December 31 or even as far as July 1, 1960. Of course, Roy had the final say.

School boards start making out the next year's budget in early summer.

Expected revenues are estimated as well as expenditures. If revenues do not meet expenditures then school boards usually submit a current operating tax levy to its district residents for passage and approval.

Last year this was not done in Teays Valley because it anticipated enough money to operate through 1959. Westfall submitted a 3.5 mill levy for current expenses, which was passed in the November 1958 general election with a 59.3 per cent majority.

This levy was for five years and will bring in an estimated $78,000 a year to cover the rising costs of maintenance, textbooks, salaries and general improvements of education.

Westfall lost approximately half of the $78,000 through the state foundation misunderstanding. Both districts expected 1959 to be a "rough" year to get through, in regards to finances, but not this "rough".

IF EITHER district had known then of the loss of state revenue, Westfall could have increased its levy and Teays Valley could have submitted one to the voters.

School boards have until 90 days before a general election to ask the board of elections to place a levy before the people.

But, according to school officials, they were not informed about a cut in state appropriations, until late January, even though George McDowell, County Superintendent, made a special trip to the state board of education to inquire if foundation funds were to be reduced.

McDowell was told that it was not known if foundation funds were going to be reduced. The boards went on the conclusion that state money would be the same as in 1958 and submitted their budgets to the County Budget Commission for the setting of tax rates.

It was not until late January that both boards were notified of the loss of state money, much too late for any rectification of their budgets.

According to Roy, the state board of education has no responsibility in informing local district boards of education in advance of allotments.

Roy said it was impossible to tell boards early of state foundation allotments. He stated calculations of state foundation monies was indeed complicated and technical, and until they were com-

Two Men Hurt In Collision On Route 23

Two men were hurt in a head-on collision between a panel truck and a gasoline transport semi-trailer at 9:35 a. m. today at the U. S. Route 23 underpass near the Picway Power Plant.

Alfred Hipper, 53, Columbus, the driver of a F. & R. Lazarus, Columbus, panel truck, and Elmer Howard, 37, Columbus, his assistant, were taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus.

Hipper suffered face and head injuries and Howard received head injuries. Hipper's condition was listed as "fair" and Howard was listed as in "serious" condition at noon today by hospital officials.

The accident occurred directly under the Norfolk and Western overpass on Route 23. Hipper told investigating patrolmen of the State Highway Patrol that he lost control of his one-ton delivery truck.

HE SAID HIS vehicle swerved to the right hitting a pile of snow, dirt and slush and then bounced across the highway divider strip directly in front of the gasoline truck. The accident site has been in need of repair since the January flood.

Charles Alexander, 52, Chillicothe, driver of the Scioto Transport Co. tank truck, related to patrolmen his tractor cab struck the panel truck in the right rear side.

Upon impact, the panel truck twirled around into the rear of the tank carrier, Alexander said. It was facing north when it came to a complete stop.

Both Howard and Hipper were thrown from the truck. The panel truck was loaded with furniture and rugs which were thrust forward into the cab on the truck on impact.

Alexander, a former Ross County Deputy Sheriff, did not appear to have suffered injuries. His tractor was heavily damaged in front and the panel truck was demolished.

Fortunately for all the gas loaded Shell Oil Co. tank carrier did not explode. Patrol officials said Hipper would be cited, probably for driving left of center.

March Snow Tapers Off In Northeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe mid-March snowstorm which hammered the Northeast, crippling normal activities and leaving a heavy death toll, tapered off today.

The late winter storm, worst of the season, dumped more than a foot of snow in sections of New England and New York state. Light snow fell during the early morning in the extreme Northeast as the intense storm moved out into the Atlantic.

At least 24 deaths were attributed to the storm, which earlier had lashed areas in the Midwest.

Most of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks suffered while shoveling snow.

The storm was indirectly blamed for the deaths this morning of seven persons including five children, in a fire in snow-bound Easton, Maine. A father, five of his six children and one man perished in the blaze that destroyed their home in Easton, about 10 miles from the Canadian border. Firemen, hampered by huge snow drifts, arrived too late at the burning home of John Hersey to save the victims.

Huge cleanup jobs confronted the storm-battered sections. Strong winds which whipped the heavy snow covering into huge drifts slowed snow removal.

Falls ranged up to 22 inches in New Hampshire and Maine. The covering at Caribou, Maine, measured 34 inches, and was 26 inches at Rumford, Maine.

Los Angeles Basking In 87-Degree Heat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A summer-like heat wave sent the temperature up to 87 degrees in Los Angeles Thursday—hottest day of the year. What's more, there wasn't any smog.

It was even hotter in other Southern California cities. Long Beach topped the list with 90, hotter even than the desert resort of Palm Springs, where it was 87.

President Says Fund Needed 'For Survival'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $3,930,000,000 in foreign aid. He said the spending is essential to survival in the face of a "growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction."

In a special message Eisenhower cautioned against reckless cuts, lest the United States become "the richest nation in the graveyard of history."

The President said the full amount is urgently needed to thwart "a fanatic conspiracy of international communism" which maintains 6½ million men under arms in about 400 divisions around the world.

Singling out the Soviet drive to force the West out of Berlin, Eisenhower said: "In Europe today the Soviet Union has made demands regarding the future of Berlin which, if unmodified, could have perilous consequences."

"The resoluteness with which we and our allies will meet this issue has come about in large measure because our past programs of economic and military assistance to our NATO allies have aided them," he said, "to stand firm in the face of threats."

Speaking of the worldwide Red threat against free nations, Eisenhower told the legislators: "Two fundamental purposes of our collective defense effort are to prevent general war and to deter Communist local aggression."

"We know the enormous and growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction and their willingness to use this power as a threat to the free world."

"We know also that even local aggressions, unless checked, could absorb nation after nation into the Communist orbit—or could flame into world war."

"The protection of the free world against the threat or the reality of Soviet nuclear aggression or local attack rests on the common defense effort established under our collective security agreements."

The sum requested is about 12 million dollars less than sought last year. It would continue massive military-economic assistance to some 70 friendly nations into a 13th consecutive postwar year.

Eisenhower's aid requests have been cut sharply in past years. Democrats, urging more spending than the administration plans on some domestic programs and the nation's own defenses, have been eyeing the foreign aid fund as a

Guards Ponder Problem of Bearskin Hats

LONDON (AP)—Britons — who love animals as much as they love their traditional pageantry — are going to have to choose between the two.

On one side is the famed Brigade of Guards, whose tall, furry headgear is not what it used to be. On the other side are shambling Canadian bears, who can provide the bearskins to make the hats.

The controversy began when former Air Force man Peter Page complained in a letter to the London Times that the guardsmen at Buckingham Palace were wearing bearskins that looked mangy and tattered.

The supply ministry blamed a shortage of bearskins from Russia.

Mayor Leo DeVillano of the Canadian town of Timmins, Ont., (population 28,790), cabled: "We have heard you badly need bearskins for new hats. We feel we can easily supply — free — enough for the whole brigade by organizing a wide-scale black bear hunt. These skins are the best there are."

Maj. Gen. Rodney Moore, commander of the Household Brigade, cabled accepting the offer.

Then someone wondered if the good townsfolk of Timmins realized what they were in for. A bearskin makes two hats. And there are 3,000 guardsmen in the brigade.

Columbus Newspaper Strike Ends; Sunday Editions Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The roar of the presses—music to the ear in a city that has been without its regular newspapers for two weeks—will be heard here once again.

The presses are expected to start rolling tomorrow night, and the Columbus Dispatch and Citizen will make their first appearance since a strike crippled publication 15 days ago.

The Ohio State Journal, which does not have a Sunday edition, will publish Monday morning.

The strike by about 70 pressmen ended Thursday night with ratification of a new contract.

The settlement was reached Thursday by the publishers and Columbus Web Pressmen's Union, Local 15. The local's president said the vote to ratify the agreement was 40-26.

Negotiations broke off Feb. 25 after 11 weeks of unsuccessful bargaining. Pressmen struck the following night. Negotiations resumed March 5.

Federal mediators said the new 26-month contract, which replaces one that expired Dec. 31, provides the same wage package the publishers offered at the outset.

Pressmen will receive a general increase, retroactive to Jan. 1, of $4 per week for the first year of the contract; an additional $2 weekly starting Jan. 1, and another $2, starting July 1, 1960.

Under the old agreement, pressmen made $118.18 a week for a 37½-hour day trick, and $123.18 for a 35-hour night shift.

In the new contract, they also will receive 22 cents for each straight-time shift worked, which will go toward insurance premiums. It figures to be $1.10 a man for a five-day week.

The major stumbling block toward agreement was the union's demand for time-and-a-half pay after five hours of work Saturday night. The publishers were successful in attempts to retain the old system: Time-and-a-half for the first hour after 6½ hours work, and double time after that.

However, the union won an extra $1 bonus for Saturday night work. Next Jan. 1, it will be added to the 50-cent bonus they now receive.

Last Saturday, the American Newspaper Guild's Local 13 began printing a daily newspaper manned by Guild newsmen laid off from the Citizen. It dies with the strike's end.

Hartman Urges New Programs For Gifted, Language Pupils

Use of audio-visual aids for improving education was the subject of a workshop for all 106 Circleville City School system teachers today at the high school.

The session opened with a talk by Superintendent George A. Hartman, outlining the objectives of the schools today, and listing some of the problems facing all teachers and administrators.

Hartman declared that the schools can improve the effectiveness of instruction by use of sight and sound assistance. "For that reason," he said, "we felt fully justified in dismissing our pupils from a day of instruction so that the teachers can hold a workshop."

The school executive said, "One of our problems today is the care of the 3 per cent of the students who are highly gifted. He suggested the assignment of a special guidance officer to direct the highly gifted in our school system to full and rapid progress."

At the same time, Hartman declared, we must continue to educate the masses. He pointed out that the national trend is toward grouping students in heterogeneous units so that they may learn by sight and sound from other pupils.

ANOTHER objective of the school today, Hartman declared, is the production of more scientists and engineers. "We need men to build space machines and men ready to mingle with the men of Mars."

He said that by 1970 one of every four college graduates will live some of his life in a foreign land. (Continued on Page Two)

Friday 13th Fails To Curb Happy Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Happy Hawaiians cranked up a second round of celebrations today for their newly acquired statehood.

Disregarding Friday the 13th, they planned a five-hour show at Honolulu Stadium featuring Hollywood entertainers and 200 grass-skirted hula dancers.

It was a holiday again throughout the islands, just as it was Thursday when Congress voted long-awaited statehood for the territory.

The day's program also called for a religious thanksgiving service in Honolulu and a big concert by the Royal Hawaiian Band, joined by the bands of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Also on the program was a 50-gun salute to the 50th state fired by artillerymen from howitzers on Iolani Palace grounds.

Thursday's celebration began noisily within minutes after the House completed passage of the statehood bill.

It exploded in a discordant din of sirens, church bells, ship's whistles and motorists' horns.

At night there were street dancing, bonfires and fireworks.

The largest bonfire was a towering blaze on an island adjoining Honolulu harbor. Logs from many states and foreign countries had been collected for the blaze.

Tax Receipts On Upswing

For the second week in a row, sales of prepaid sales tax stamps in Pickaway County exceeded totals for a year ago. Total collections of prepaid taxes for the period which began July 1 and ended February 28 also topped collection for the like period last year.

During the week ending February 28, a total of $8,029.39 was collected in Pickaway County from sale of sales tax stamps. This compares with a total of $7,312.55 for the same week last year.

Cumulative collections from July 1, 1958 to February 28 this year as $261,444.95, as compared to total collections of $258,251.33 for the same period a year ago.

Only other counties in this area where sales tax receipts have exceeded the totals of last year are Franklin and Hocking. Counties with totals less than a year ago include Athens, Clinton, Fairfield, Fayette, Licking, Madison, Pike, Ross, Scioto and Vinton. In fact, only 14 of the 88 counties in Ohio have cumulative collections exceeding those of a year ago.

Teays . . .

pleted it was impossible to inform boards of their state support.

Roy said there were more than 1,000 districts for which his department had to calculate state foundation formulas and this took much time and effort.

He said that school boards were informed at the earliest possible moment. Roy said the state department followed an Ohio Attorney General's opinion for its 1958 formula.

The opinion stated that newly created school districts in 1957 (Westfall and Teays Valley were both formed then) were entitled to not less than what they received in 1957.

ROY SAID this opinion "wasn't sound law or a correct interpretation of the law" and it "applied for one year only (1958)".

Roy concluded stating school districts are entitled to an amount equal to what the combined total of its consolidated schools received in 1955.

Therefore, Westfall received the amount of what its six local school districts were allotted in 1955. Westfall is the consolidation of Monroe, Jackson, Perry, Darby, Muhlenberg and Deercreek townships.

Teays Valley received the total amount granted in 1955 to its local school districts of Walnut, Harrison, Scioto and Madison townships.

Local school officials contend that they should have been notified of the cutbacks in November to plan their appropriations accordingly.

Informed sources noted this cutback of state monies was in accordance to the state board of education's policy of "rolling" back additional costs of operating schools onto the local school districts.

It is known that the state department of education has used its surplus money from the general fund and at present has asked the Ohio General Assembly for more funds.

Local school officials said recently that "when ever school boards do not secure needed funds from available sources of revenue, it must tax remaining available sources, namely the local residential taxpayers."

They also noted that without consolidation some county school districts wouldn't have been able to operate this school year due to this cutback, which would have evolved whether consolidation had been in effect or not.

Girl Develops Unusual Formula

CINCINNATI (AP) — Want to know how to win those guessing contests—how many beans in a jar, etc.?

Eleven-year-old Julia Colan of suburban Norwood has a formula. Julia guessed within six ounces the correct weight of a big side of beef displayed here.

"I took my age, 11, and put my grade in school in the middle," she said. "Then I subtracted the six from the 11 to get the ounces."

Her estimate: 161 pounds, 3 ounces. Simple, no?

Julia won 161 pounds, 11 ounces of beef.

President Says

place to offset some of the increases.

Nearly 62 per cent of the new funds Eisenhower asked would go for military programs — military equipment and munitions including missiles and "defense support" as aid to nations which maintain big military forces of their own.

The remainder would go for development help, technical assistance and low interest loans, especially in Asia and the Middle East.

Eisenhower said special aid from one of these funds is needed for West Berlin which he described as "a solitary outpost of freedom back of the Iron Curtain."

"In addition to the firm support which we and our NATO allies have assured West Berlin in the face of current Soviet threat," he said, "it is important that we show our support of its people by continuing our economic assistance to that beleaguered city."

Eisenhower took note of the congressional arguments for shifting funds from foreign aid into other operations.

"When I hear this program described as a 'give-away' or as 'aid to foreigners at the expense of domestic program,' I wonder what sort of America we would have today—whether any funds would be available for any domestic programs, whether all of our substance would not today be devoted to building a Fortress America—if we had not had such a program," he said.

The President said that dollar for dollar, foreign aid adds more to American security than a far greater expenditure on United States forces. He cited as dividends of the program some 250 strategic Air, Navy and Army bases made available by foreign countries, as well as five million men such countries have mobilized to help curb Soviet aggression.

Rejecting the contention that the Soviet has outstripped the United States in military might, Eisenhower called the Soviet Union "the second military and economic power in the world today."

He said Red China, "the other great Communist power," also is demonstrating a ruthless drive for power.

Eisenhower said the next decade will forecast the outcome of the free world struggle against communism.

"The challenge that confronts us is broad and deep—and will remain so for some time," he said.

"Yet our gravest danger is not in these external facts but within ourselves—the possibility that in complacent satisfaction with our present wealth, preoccupation with increasing our own military power, we may fail to recognize the realities around us and to deal with them with the vigor and tenacity their gravity requires."

County Gets New Snow Fall

Police Report One Fender Bender

Pickaway County received an additional 0.08 inches of snow last night to greet early risers today with a white blanket over Wednesday's seven inches.

This made the fifth day in row that this area has received precipitation in the form of either rain or snow.

The Scioto River here had not felt the melting effects of snow from northern counties at noon as it held steady at 6.12 feet, dropping 0.18 foot from yesterday.

City Police reported one fender-bender type accident this morning due to the still slippery streets. The Ohio State Patrol reported a semi-trailer accident occurred at 1:10 a. m. today on U. S. Route 22 east of here.

PATROLMAN Gene Miller stated the driver of the vehicle, Milton Baugh, Dunmore, Ky., skidded and jackknifed his truck on a curve near the County Home.

The truck cab landed in ditch along side the road but the trailer remained on the highway, partially blocking traffic until 4 a. m.

No injuries were suffered but the tractor was damaged.

A total of 1.43 inches of rain and snow have fallen on the county this month, 0.04 of an inch ahead of the monthly average.

No rain or snow is forecast for the next several days. Warmer weather will descend upon the county over the weekend, with temperatures in the high 40's.

Hartman . . .

"Most educators feel we need to teach a modern foreign language over a four-year period with most of the emphasis on a speaking knowledge."

"Since only a small per cent of the students will profit from a foreign language, we must have a keen guidance system. The tape recorder has become an important instrument in the teaching of foreign languages."

Hartman said the three major weaknesses of our school system, lack of educational leadership, lack of finances and lack of student effort.

The superintendent praised the local Board of Education for its policy of allowing the administrator to administer the school system. He also declared that Circleville has a "superior teaching staff, the main key to good instruction."

"Our financial structure is below the average for the State of Ohio," Hartman declared. "We must improve our financial standing if we are to give Circleville the type of educational opportunity the children need and the people want."

"We must try to reach each individual child. We must secure his interest and meet his needs so that he succeeds in making educational progress."

"Audio-visual educational can improve our effectiveness to meet the new challenge of today."

THE TEACHERS met at 9 a. m. to hear Hartman and Dr. Clyde Miller, Columbus, audio-visual director, State Department of Education.

During the afternoon sessions, the teachers attended at least five of eight different roundtable discussions on audio-visual education. About $15,000 worth of audio-visual equipment was on display in the high school gymnasium.

Fred Goeglein, city audio-visual director, was in charge of the workshop program.

Lutherans Ask Special Confession Protection

CLEVELAND (AP)—Presidents of the 32 synods of the United Lutheran Church of America today urged the church to take a strong stand in protecting the right of pastors to keep confidential confessions made to them by individuals.

The church's executive board was asked to prepare a statement
"that a pastor of a synod of the United Lutheran Church of America shall not be compelled in any court or to any public officer, nor in any way, to reveal any confidential confessional matters disclosed to him in his professional capacity."

Gotham Solon Admits Politicians on Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep.
Charles A. Buckley (D-NY) said today his $38,497 annual allowance for office help goes to eight political friends in New York City who do part-time work for him.

The veteran New York congressman also said four staff members of the House Public Works Committee, of which he is chairman, work in his congressional office here or do part-time jobs for him in New York.

He made the comments in a response to questions about a published story on his office setup.
The 12 draw government salaries totaling $70,171 annually.

YESTERDAY'S MEDICINE, TODAY'S COW FEED

A short time ago, people thought blackstrap molasses was effective treatment for anemia and rheumatism.
Today we know better. We wouldn't think of relying on "home remedies" when we have so many fast-acting, reliable modern medications available to us.
But remember—most medicines should be taken only upon the advice of your physician. The next time you're not feeling up to par, see your doctor first.
Then, if he orders medication, come to us for quality prescription service.

IT'S NEW! BROASTED CHICKEN

The World's Finest Eatin'
Chicken With Incomparable Taste!

COOKED IN 6 MINUTES!

What Is Broasted Chicken?

Our chicken is all fresh. It is prepared in scientific new equipment called Broasters. The Broaster injects heat units instantaneously, sears the chicken, seals in all flavorful natural juices, and cooks through to the bone in six minutes. Broasted chicken is served to you golden brown, tender, and wonderfully palatable. It's the fastest — it's the finest — it's truly delicious. Remember how grandma used to put the chicken in an iron skillet with a lid on it and steam-cook in it's own juices for an hour or so? We cook with the same idea, only use Broasters and inject steam into pressure cooker and use vegetable oil to brown off the chicken. No batter, no breading, no hard crust.

Atomic Work Hazards Loom

Problems connected with administering industrial uses of nuclear energy promise to be one of many hot potatoes handled by Congress this session. An investigation by the Atomic Research and Development subcommittee of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, headed by Illinois Rep. Melvin Price, will inquire into means of protecting atomic age workers from the hazards of radioactivity.

The subcommittee will also consider federal legislation is needed to compensate employees for injuries of this type, or whether they are adequately covered under state laws.

In stating the purpose of the investigation, Representative Price said:

"With the rapid expansion of the peaceful uses of atomic energy there is general realization that we must come to grips—and soon—with the related problems of employ radiation hazards and workmen's compensation for radiation injuries."

The subcommittee is likely to come to grips with more than its stated scope of inquiry. This investigation will enter the realm of the unknown in several instances, it will find many divergent opinions by nuclear experts and it most likely will become involved in a medical quarrel over the very health problems it is looking into.

Because of the slow acting nature of continued exposure to small amounts of radiation, it is possible that claimants may contract occupation-caused ailments directly attributable to radiation exposure decades earlier. Leukemia, aplastic anemia, cancer, reduction of life expectancy and gene-

To determine, perhaps many years after the event, the actual cause of the ailment is another problem to be encountered.

This investigation is likely also to become embroiled in federal versus states rights, in view of the fact that the Atomic Energy Commission—charged by law to regulate all uses of radioactive materials and establish standards of acceptable doses of exposure—has left the subject of workmen's compensation strictly to the states.

A booklet published by the Bureau of Labor Standards reports that few state laws make provision for radiation-caused disabilities, and this fact is producing strong support for a federal compensation law. If the subcommittee manages to evade the many pitfalls it will meet, it will probably recommend a law to protect the growing army of atomic workers from the hazards of their occupation. If it does, the practical realities of time may prove it to be premature.

Horse-Kissing: a Dead Art

NEW YORK (AP)—In the old Westerns the he-man hero usually wound up being bussed by his faithful pony.

Because of a growing feminine interest in these hoofbeat sagas, however, horse kissing has died out as a major American art.

To please the ladies in the audience, the story now ends with the hero in a tender clinch with the faithful dance hall hostess — and the faithful horse can go eat grass, for all anybody cares.

Kissing pretty actresses seems an ideal job to the average man. But there are days when Gene Barry would just as soon turn this chore over to a stand-in.

For a temperamental actress, he implied, can be worse than a temperamental mustang.

"Some of them try to give you that old feminine flimflam," Gene said.

"Then it's pretty hard to make love to them. But a fellow can always manage. I always ask my self, 'If their own mother loved them, why can't I?'"

Barry, like that real-life Western character, Billy the Kid, was born in New York City. In his first stage role he played Bluebeard in the sixth grade in Public School 121 in Brooklyn.

He began his professional career at 16. He sold jewelry, shoes and ladies' wear before making the big time on Broadway.

Since then he has been in a dozen films, traveled the night club circuit, and appeared on more than 100 television shows before he hit the real pay dirt as Bat Masterson.

His derby hat, tight suit and gold-headed cane—it often takes the place of a pistol — are now symbols of elegance to the teenagers (and middle-aged ladies) who idolize him.

He hopes to go on to directing and producing. But if the present mania for Westerns should fade and leave him stranded—unlikely, since he is a man of many talents—he's ready to take up a new career.

"I'd go in for contracting and building," he said. "I recently built my own house, and I like the field."

Barry recently said his goal was to have "a greater concern for the more simple and basic things" in life.

Then he added with a grin: "But first you gotta get rich. Then you don't have to worry about enough and can afford to squander your money on the simple, basic things."

By George Sokolsky

Not Enough Fear of God

One of the crosses that a columnist bears, and there are several, is that when he writes something that displeases another fellow, he is an ignorant galoot.

Once an editor pestered me about a novel which he enjoyed but which I found to be a bore. To avoid an unpleasant discussion I blurted out that I have no time for novels, whereupon I got into a worse discussion on how ignorant one is who does not read novels.

Another time, I mentioned something about Hebrew and received a letter from a reader questioning my knowledge of that language. Should I write him a letter telling him how many languages I can read? Perish the thought!

Now I have a letter from Mrs. Gerta M. Beach of the Pittsburgh Ethical Society who wants me "to find out something about the Ethical Culture position." I do not know Mrs. Beach's age, but my memory of Ethical Culture goes way back, perhaps as much as 50 years. I often listened to Dr. Felix Adler, the founder of this sect. I listened to other Ethical Cultivists, among them Dr. Paul Abelson, at the Madison Street House.

Dr. Felix Adler was an exciting personality. His father was rabbi of Temple Emanu-El in New York City which was then the leading synagogue in the United States. Felix who was born in Germany was sent to Columbia University. It was anticipated that he would succeed his father as rabbi of Temple Emanu-El. He was therefore sent to Germany to study in the Hochschule für die Wissenschaft des Judentums in Berlin and afterwards to Heidelberg where he received his doctorate. He was deeply influenced by Hegelian philosophy which then prevailed in Germany and corrupted even stronger men.

Temple Emanu-El would not have him because of his extremely radical views on religion and on social questions. He thereupon went to Cornell University to teach Hebrew and Oriental literature, but a professorship was inadequate for his great energies, whereupon he founded The Society for Ethical Culture in 1876.

The fundamental conception of this Society is that right living is possible independent of religious or other dogmatic views. He organized a school along these theories. His influence on education, particularly during the 1880's and 1890's, was significant throughout the United States.

Ethical Cultivists do not regard themselves as a creed or a cult, members may belong to any religion they choose or none at all. Originally, most Ethical Cultivists regarded themselves as agnostics, but in recent years, they have tended more and more to be a humanistic cult with a distinctly primitive Christian approach to moral problems.

Mrs. Beach says: "We believe in the complete separation of Church and State, which means that no religion whatsoever shall be taught in the schools. We do not hold with the compromising and dishonest position that no religion shall be taught in the schools with the exception of just this little bit here or that little bit there. These minor violations are an opening wedge and the temptation then is always present for any teacher to inject something of his particular brand of religion as just another 'little bit' that he hopes no one will notice."

Translating this into less polite language, what Mrs. Beach objects to is the possible bootlegging of religion by dedicated teachers. It is all right for a teacher to inject socialistic, Communist, humanistic ideas in the classroom, but God forbid that any teacher should call attention to the Ten Commandments, to Moses or Jesus, or even worse, to God!

How dreadful it would be if our children were to believe in the moral law of God, if crime among juveniles and sex problems were less pressing, if respect again became a household quality because children, early in life, believed in the good life as the kind of life which brought man closer to God.

Mrs. Beach underlines the words "no religion whatsoever" in the above paragraph. Is there any objection to teaching anti-religion in the schools? Does Mrs. Beach object to teaching Marxism, which is atheistic, to our children in high school and college?

The cult of God-haters grows stronger and stronger in this land which faces greater perils from within than from without. Our generations are being weakened in the very schools to which we send them for education and for character building.

Hormones Help Asthmatics

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Now they are using sex hormones to treat asthma—and, reportedly, with favorable results thus far.

Recent studies in France indicate that if the asthma has been triggered or made worse by hormonal disturbances, the use of sex hormones frequently brings successful results.

The studies were conducted on a total of 565 patients, so apparently the French have some reliable information to back up their reports.

However, the patients have to be carefully selected and the doses must be controlled.

Many of the patients participating in the study had asthma which was aggravated shortly before or during the menses.

In some cases, this is associated with a deficit of estrogen.

The remedy for such a situation, according to French doctors, is to give the patient a small dose of estrogen orally and then two injections of progesterone during the second half of the menstrual period.

More common than estrogenic deficit is an excess of the hormone. In these cases, the French prescribe injections of progesterone or testosterone during the second half of the cycle.

These doctors have found that sometimes the addition of other drugs will aid hormone treatment. These include histidine, diuretics and vitamin E.

Androgenic therapy is suggested when asthma develops during the time of menopause.

The studies show that a single injection a month is often effective.

When asthma is associated with pregnancy, the doctors suggest progesterone treatment.

Their studies show good record, especially in treating asthma connected with pregnancy. With patients whose asthma began during the first three months of pregnancy, the French doctors report "striking results" in more than 75 per cent of the cases.

I hardly need to add that this hormone therapy won't work in all cases. And in several of the cases studied by the French, it had to be withdrawn after it was begun.

It does show, however, that medical science is coming up with something different all the time to aid the asthmatic.

Mrs. A. W. R.: I am taking vitamins B and C by mouth and injections of B-12 and have a reaction from acid foods in the form of a stinging burning tongue and bad taste after eating. What do you think may be the cause, and what might be the treatment?

Answer: Burning tongue and bad taste may be due to many causes, including dentures, rough teeth, metallic dental fillings, allergies, stomach disorders and emotional disturbances. It is common in older people. Your doctor should determine the cause and prescribe the best treatment.

Atomic Work Hazards Loom

Problems connected with administering industrial uses of nuclear energy promise to be one of many hot potatoes handled by Congress this session. An investigation by the Atomic Research and Development Subcommittee of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, headed by Illinois Rep. Melvin Price, will inquire into means of protecting atomic age workers from the hazards of radioactivity.

The subcommittee will also consider federal legislation is needed to compensate employees for injuries of this type, or whether they are adequately covered under state laws.

In stating the purpose of the investigation, Representative Price said:

"With the rapid expansion of the peaceful uses of atomic energy there is general realization that we must come to grips—and soon—with the related problems of employe radiation hazards and workmen's compensation for radiation injuries."

The subcommittee is likely to come to grips with more than its stated scope of inquiry. This investigation will enter the realm of the unknown in several instances, it will find many divergent opinions by nuclear experts and it most likely will become involved in a medical quarrel over the very health problems it is looking into.

Because of the slow acting nature of continued exposure to small amounts of radiation, it is possible that claimants may contract occupation-caused ailments directly attributable to radiation exposure decades earlier. Leukemia, aplastic anemia, cancer, reduction of life expectancy and genetic changes are the more important physical disabilities which could be the result of radiation exposure, but these same ailments could be caused by a number of other man-made and natural agents.

To determine, perhaps many years after the event, the actual cause of the ailment is another problem to be encountered.

This investigation is likely also to become embroiled in federal versus states rights, in view of the fact that the Atomic Energy Commission—charged by law to regulate all uses of radioactive materials and establish standards of acceptable doses of exposure—has left the subject of workmen's compensation strictly to the states.

A booklet published by the Bureau of Labor Standards reports that few state laws make provision for radiation-caused disabilities, and this fact is producing strong support for a federal compensation law. If the subcommittee manages to evade the many pitfalls it will meet, it will probably recommend a law to protect the growing army of atomic workers from the hazards of their occupation. If it does, the practical realities of time may prove it to be premature.

Our eyes have been placed in front because it is more important to see where we are going than where we have been.

Horse-Kissing: a Dead Art

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—In the old Westerns the he-man hero usually wound up being kissed by his faithful pony.

Because of a growing feminine interest in these hoofbeat sagas, however, horse kissing has died out as a major American art.

To please the ladies in the audience, the story now ends with the hero in a tender clench with the faithful dance hall hostess—and the faithful horse can go eat grass, for all anybody cares.

Kissing pretty actresses seems an ideal job to the average man. But there are days when Gene Barry would just as soon turn this chore over to a stand-in.

For a temperamental actress, he implied, can be worse than a temperamental mustang.

"Some of them try to give you that old feminine flimflam," Gene said.

"Then it's pretty hard to make love to them. But a fellow can always manage. I always ask myself, 'If their own mother loved them, why can't I?'"

Barry, like that real-life Western character, Billy the Kid, was born in New York City. In his first stage role he played Bluebeard in the sixth grade in Public School 121 in Brooklyn.

He began his professional career at 16. He sold jewelry, shoes and ladies' wear before making the big time on Broadway.

Since then he has been in a dozen films, traveled the night club circuit, and appeared on more than 100 television shows before he hit the real pay dirt as Bat Masterson.

His derby hat, tight suit and gold-headed cane—it often takes the place of a pistol—are new symbols of elegance to the teenagers (and middle-aged ladies) who idolize him.

He hopes to go on to directing and producing. But if the present mania for Westerns should fade and leave him stranded—unlike, since he is a man of many talents—he's ready to take up a new career.

"I'd go in for contracting and building," he said. "I recently built my own house, and I like the field."

Barry recently said his goal was to have "a greater concern for the more simple and basic things" in life.

Then he added with a grin: "But first you gotta get rich. Then you don't have to worry about enough and can afford to squander your money on the simple, basic things."

Not Enough Fear of God

By George Sokolsky

One of the crosses that a columnist bears, and there are several, is that when he writes something that displeases another fellow, he is an ignorant galoot.

Once an editor pestered me about a novel which he enjoyed but which I found to be a bore. To avoid an unpleasant discussion I blurted out that I have no time for novels, whereupon I got into a worse discussion on how ignorant one is who does not read novels.

Another time, I mentioned something about Hebrew and received a letter from a reader questioning my knowledge of that language. Should I write him a letter telling him how many languages I can read? Perish the thought!

Now I have a letter from Mrs. Gerta M. Beach of the Pittsburgh Ethical Society who wants me "to find out something about the Ethical Culture position." I do not know Mrs. Beach's age, but my memory of Ethical Culture goes way back, perhaps as much as 50 years. I often listened to Dr. Felix Adler, the founder of this sect. I listened to other Ethical Culturists, among them Dr. Paul Abelson, at the Madison Street House.

Dr. Felix Adler was an exciting personality. His father was rabbi of Temple Emanu-El in New York City which was then the leading synagogue in the United States. Felix who was born in Germany was sent to Columbia University. It was anticipated that he would succeed his father as rabbi of Temple Emanu-El. He was therefore sent to Germany to study in the Hochschule für die Wissenschaft des Judentums in Berlin and afterwards to Heidelberg where he received his doctorate. He was deeply influenced by Hegelian philosophy which then prevailed in Germany and corrupted even stronger men.

Temple Emanu-El would not have him because of his extremely radical views on religion and on social questions. He thereupon went to Cornell University to teach Hebrew and Oriental literature, but a professorship was inadequate for his great energies, whereupon he founded The Society for Ethical Culture in 1876.

The fundamental conception of this Society is that right living is possible independent of religious or other dogmatic views. He organized a school along these theories. His influence on education, particularly during the 1880's and 1890's, was significant throughout the United States.

Ethical Culturists do not regard themselves as a creed or a cult; members may belong to any religion they choose or none at all. Originally, most Ethical Culturists regarded themselves as agnostics, but in recent years, they have tended more and more to be a humanistic cult with a distinctly primitive Christian approach to moral problems.

Mrs. Beach says:

"We believe in the complete separation of Church and State, which means that no religion whatsoever shall be taught in the schools. We do not hold with the compromising and dishonest position that no religion shall be taught in the schools with the exception of just this little bit here or that little bit there. These minor violations are an opening wedge and the temptation then is always present for any teacher to inject something of his particular brand of religion as just another 'little bit' that he hopes no one will notice."

Translating this into less polite language, what Mrs. Beach objects to is the possible boot-legging of religion by dedicated teachers. It is all right for a teacher to inject socialistic, Communistic, humanistic ideas in the classroom, but God forbid that any teacher should call attention to the Ten Commandments, to Moses or Jesus, or even worse, to God!

How dreadful it would be if our children were to believe in the moral law of God, if crime among juveniles and sex problems were less pressing, if respect again became a household quality because children, early in life, believed in the good life as the kind of life which brought man closer to God.

Mrs. Beach underlines the words "no religion whatsoever" in the above paragraph. Is there any objection to teaching anti-religion in the schools? Does Mrs. Beach object to teaching Marxism, which is atheistic, to our children in high school and college?

The cult of God-haters grows stronger and stronger in this land which faces greater perils from within than from without. Our generations are being weakened in the very schools to which we send them for education and for character building.

Cary Grant Says He's Fed Up With Los Angeles 'Poison'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I can't take it any more, I'm getting out. I see no reason to stay here and get poisoned."

These dramatic words came from the real-life conversation of Cary Grant. His complaint: Los Angeles' smog.

"I've had it," said the actor as he basked in the smog-filtered sunshine outside the "Operation Petticoat" set. He was basking his face with an aluminum reflecting sheet—he has always kept his face tan to avoid using makeup.

Grant is a health bug. But he claims one can't say health while breathing smog.

"Fortunately, I don't have to stay here," he remarked. "I can go to Europe and make pictures. And that's what I'm going to do, just as soon as I can get squared away."

"It's a shame that smog has ruined this city. I can remember what a wonderful town it was when I first came here. It's not so wonderful any more."

Tony Curtis, same picture, was chortling about his business acumen. A local moneyman offered to buy out Tony's interest in "The Vikings" for a half-million dollars. The actor didn't sell.

"So far my returns from the picture have been $680,000," he reported, "and large parts of Europe haven't been heard from yet."

The lad is liable to get even richer from his share of "Some Like It Hot." The picture may well be the most talked-about and most-seen film of the year.

It is a rocking, swinging delight, the most outrageously funny movie in years. Both Tony and

Cary Grant Says He's Fed Up With Los Angeles 'Poison'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I can't take it any more. I'm getting out. I see no reason to stay here and get poisoned."

These dramatic words came from the real-life conversation of Cary Grant. His complaint: Los Angeles' smog.

"I've had it," said the actor as he basked in the smog-filtered sunshine outside the "Operation Petticoat" set. He was basking his face with an aluminum reflecting sheet—he has always kept his face tan to avoid using makeup.

Grant is a health bug. But he claims one can't say health while breathing smog.

"Fortunately, I don't have to stay here," he remarked. "I can go to Europe and make pictures. And that's what I'm going to do, just as soon as I can get squared away."

"It's a shame that smog has

Tony Curtis, same picture, was chortling about his business acumen. A local moneyman offered to buy out Tony's interest in "The Vikings" for a half-million dollars. The actor didn't sell.

"So far my returns from the picture have been $680,000," he reported, "and large parts of Europe haven't been heard from yet."

The lad is liable to get even richer from his share of "Some Like It Hot." The picture may well be the most talked-about and most-seen film of the year.

It is a rocking, swinging delight, the most outrageously funny movie in years. Both Tony and

Saltcreek Trustee Field Thicker

Field for the race for Saltcreek Twp. trustee became thicker yesterday with the addition to two more candidates, it was reported today by the Pickaway County Board of Elections.

Ralph Van Fossen, Tarlton, filed for trustee and E. Frank Schooley, Route 1, Kingston, asked for a trustee's petition.

Thomas L. Beavers, Route 4, took out a petition for Washington Twp. clerk. He is the incumbent.

Jack Lemmon are great as the masqueraders in an all-girl band, with never an objectionable note.

Marilyn Monroe never looked better; all the trouble Billy Wilder had with her on the film appears worth it. Joe E. Brown also is a big hit after being away from the screen much too long.

46 Births; 17 Deaths In February

A total of 46 births were recorded here in the month of February, it was reported today by officials of the Circleville Health Board.

The figure was counter-acted by 17 deaths recorded in both the City and Pickaway County Health offices. The city had 10 deaths and the county, seven.

Of the 46 births, which was three more than January, 25 were girls and 21 boys. These birth figures do not include births by city or county residents in hospitals away from here.

2 More Trials Set In Newark Robbery

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Donald R. Anderson, 26, and Robert Smith, 24, both of Massillon, go on trial March 23 and 25, respectively, charged with an armed robbery which they say a third man plotted.

Cesar Kirkland, 34, also of Massillon, will be sentenced Monday after being convicted by a jury

Thursday for his part in the $2,600 holdup of Barney Susi's Bar and Grill here Sept. 26. Anderson and Smith, accused of actually staging the robbery, testified that Kirkland was the ringleader.

Wall Covering Features Three-Dimensional Look

By ELEANOR ROSS

New ideas, new items to please and interest the homemaker are constantly coming on the market. Some pieces are small, such as kitchenware; others are large, such as wall coverings.

If you love the honey look of brick or fieldstone walls inside the house, you can have it now, and it won't be an expensive taste. Either brick or fieldstone can now be simulated with a new sort of wall covering.

Of course, you've come upon plastic panels that are simply pressed on, without using paste or any other adhesives. The same plastic—the kind with a paper backing which you strip off before applying—now appears in three-dimensional, interlocking panels which can be easily applied to walls without outside help. The three-dimensional feature gives a realistic impression of stone or brick that is quite remarkable.

Since the panels are designed to interlock, you can't go wrong when you apply them. They fit so snugly, each into the other, that nothing can become crooked or slipshod.

There is a choice of cyprus tan, brick red, straw tan, fieldstone terra cotta, fieldstone gray and several other colors.

This new wall covering is especially appealing for the playroom, den or basement, and it goes over any surface, including tile, wood, cinder block, cement and plaster.

A new kitchen item is ceramic cookware, introduced by a famous glass manufacturer. The containers, which come in creamy white with a delicate blue design, have the look of good china, yet they go under the broiler, on top of the stove or are equally at home stored in the freezer. You can transfer a container from freezer straight into hot oven—quite a trick!

Food can be served on the table in these attractive pieces, too. They clean easily and can't retain fat and food particles since they are non-porous. And they won't crack or scratch.

Moreover, each container comes with its own "cradle," a frame that protects the table top and looks pretty, too. Still another good idea is a detachable handle that locks securely onto any one of the dishes and which can be removed when the containers are used at table.

A set consisting of four pieces is something to consider when selecting wedding gifts. Any bride would appreciate it as a real homemaking aid.

Mr. Donald McGregor, 270 Sunset Drive, was hostess to the Literature Study Group of the AAUW Tuesday evening.

The book discussed was "Kristian Lavandsdatter" by Sigrid Undset, a Norwegian author, was the winner of the Nobel Prize in 1928. The book takes place in Norway in Medieval times.

A guest for the evening was Miss Dorothy Snedley, librarian for the bookmobile. She has recently moved here from Pennsylvania.

The next meeting will be held April 14 at the home of Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Williamsport.

The Shining Light Class of First EUB Church will meet in the Service Center at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. Mrs. Myrtle Trimmer, class president, will preside. Mrs. J. E. Milliron, Mrs. James Pierce and Mrs. Carl Wilkins will serve as hostesses.

Meeting Postponed
The Roundtown Busy Bees Extension Club meeting was postponed due to the weather. The meeting is to be rescheduled at a later date.

State Board of Tax Appeals Eyes Record Assessment Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A real baptism of fire may await the newest member of the State Board of Tax Appeals. He's probably going to have to help decide the largest sales tax assessment case in Ohio's history.

The new member is attorney Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus, the governor's choice to fill the chair left vacant when the term of Clyde C. Sherrick of Ashland expired last month.

The big tax case involves $456,066—$396,578 in sales taxes which the tax commissioner says the S. S. Kresge Co. owes Ohio, and a 15 per cent penalty for failure to pay that amount on time.

Although the Kresge Company appealed to the board a year ago, attorneys have needed a lot of time to file briefs in the complicated case—actually 36 small cases in one—and the board has only been pondering the matter a couple of months.

The other two members of the board, Hugh S. Jenkins of Columbus, and Edwin F. Sawicki of Cleveland, are wading through a mountain of data connected with the case.

The Kresge case is actually 36 in one because it involves 36 of the dime store chain's 83 Ohio stores.

Unable to locate adequate records of 1952-1955 sales subject to the state's three per cent sales tax, Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers had his examiners check sales for a given period of time in 1956, the year the state decided to audit Kresge's books.

The examiners were to determine what percentage of indi-dual store sales was above 41 cents and subject to the tax, and what per cent was less than 41 cents and not subject.

This percentage was then applied to sales totals for the 1952-1955 period, and Bowers claimed the 36 stores during that period should have purchased $396,578 more in sales tax stamps (that is, paid that much more tax).

The company, which operates 631 American stores, contends that the audit period was not representative of its business for the 1952-1955 period covered by the assessment. It wants the appeals board to determine whether methods used by Bowers' examiners in arriving at the assessment were correct.

In the past, tax officials say, where a vendor does not maintain adequate tax records, the courts have allowed auditors to start with gross receipts then make such allowances as are deemed reasonable for non-taxable and exempt sales.

The original assessment was made July 25, 1956, and affirmed by Bowers Feb. 21, 1958 after several hearings. The company then appealed to the board.

Wall Covering Features Three-Dimensional Look

By ELEANOR ROSS

New ideas, new items to please and interest the homemaker are constantly coming on the market.

Some pieces are small, such as kitchenware; others are large, such as wall coverings.

If you love the homey look of brick or fieldstone walls inside the house, you can have it now, and it won't be an expensive taste, either. Brick or fieldstone can now be simulated with a new sort of wall covering.

Of course, you've come upon plastic panels that are simply pressed on, without using paste or any other adhesives. The same plastic—the kind with a paper backing which you strip off before applying—now appears in three-dimensional, interlocking panels which can be easily applied to walls without outside help. The three-dimensional feature gives a realistic impression of stone or brick that is quite remarkable.

Since the panels are designed to interlock, you can't go wrong when you apply them. They fit so snugly, each into the other, that nothing can become crooked or slipshod.

There is a choice of cyprus tan, brick red, straw tan, fieldstone terra cotta, fieldstone gray and several other colors.

This new wall covering is especially appealing for the playroom, den or basement, and it goes over any surface, including tile, wood, cinder block, cement and plaster.

A new kitchen item is ceramic cookware, introduced by a famous glass manufacturer. The containers, which come in creamy white with a delicate blue design, have the look of good china, yet they go under the broiler, on top of the stove or are equally at home stored in the freezer. You can transfer a container from freezer straight into hot oven—quite a trick!

Food can be served on the table in these attractive pieces, too. They clean easily and can't retain fat and food particles since they are nonporous. And they won't crack or scratch.

Moreover, each container comes with its own "cradle," a frame that protects the table top and looks pretty, too. Still another good idea is a detachable handle that locks securely onto any one of the dishes and which can be removed when the containers are used at table.

A set consisting of four pieces is something to consider when selecting wedding gifts. Any bride would appreciate it as a real homemaker's aid.

Mrs. McGregor Hostess for Study Group

Mrs. Donald McGregor, 270 Sunset Drive, was hostess to the Literature Study Group of the AAUW Tuesday evening.

A guest for the evening was Miss Dorothy Snedley, librarian for the bookmobile. She has recently moved here from Pennsylvania.

The next meeting will be held April 14 at the home of Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Williamsport.

Shining Light Plans Meeting

The Shining Light Class of First EUB Church will meet in the Service Center at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. Mrs. Myrtle Trimmer, class president, will preside. Mrs. J. E. Milliron, Mrs. James Pierce and Mrs. Carl Wilkins will serve as hostesses.

Mrs. J. E. Grooms reported for the Christian Social Relations committee. The members voted to give donations to the five Episcopal Missions.

State Board of Tax Appeals Eyes Record Assessment Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A real baptism of fire may await the newest member of the State Board of Tax Appeals. He's probably going to have to help decide the largest sales tax assessment case in Ohio's history.

The new member is attorney Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus, the governor's choice to fill the chair left vacant when the term of Clyde C. Sherick of Ashland expired last month.

The big tax case involves $456,066—$396,579 in sales taxes which the tax commissioner says the S. S. Kresge Co. owes Ohio, and a 15 per cent penalty for failure to pay that amount on time.

Although the Kresge Company appealed to the board a year ago, attorneys have needed a lot of time to file briefs in the complicated case—actually 36 small cases in one—and the board has only been pondering the matter a couple of months.

The other two members of the board, Hugh S. Jenkins of Columbus, and Edwin F. Sawicki of Cleveland, are wading through a mountain of data connected with the case.

The Kresge case is actually 36 in one because it involves 36 of the dime store chain's 83 Ohio stores.

Unable to locate adequate records of 1952-1955 sales subject to the state's three per cent sales tax, Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers had his examiners check sales for a given period of time in 1956, the year the state decided to audit Kresge's books.

The examiners were to determine what percentage of indi-dual store sales was above 41 cents and subject to the tax, and what per cent was less than 41 cents and not subject.

This percentage was then applied to sales totals for the 1952-1955 period, and Bowers claimed the 36 stores during that period should have purchased $396,579 more in sales tax stamps (that is, paid that much more tax).

The company, which operates 631 American stores, contends that the audit period was not representative of its business for the 1952-1955 period covered by the assessment. It wants the appeals board to determine whether methods used by Bowers' examiners in arriving at the assessment were correct.

In the past, tax officials say, where a vendor does not maintain adequate tax records, the courts have allowed auditors to start with gross receipts then make such allowances as are deemed reasonable for non-taxable and exempt sales.

The original assessment was made July 25, 1956, and affirmed by Bowers Feb. 21, 1958 after several hearings. The company then appealed to the board.

France, West Germany Chill Idea of Troop Withdrawal

BONN (AP)—The West German and French governments apparently have overruled any idea the British may have had to ease the Berlin crisis by proposing a wholesale withdrawal of troops from central Europe.

This was made clear today after British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan held talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to quiet West German fears that Macmillan's mission to Moscow had raised the prospect of "disengagement" as an Allied policy.

A British spokesman said Macmillan was misunderstood in his joint statement with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev suggesting a study of the possible reduction of forces and arms in "an agreed area of Europe, coupled with an appropriate system of inspection."

British informants emphasized that Macmillan was only restating a long-standing Western policy of reducing tensions in central Europe through a system of arms reduction under effective controls.

British Foreign Office spokesman Peter Hope told newsmen Macmillan has in mind a system of controlled, inspected arms reduction in some yet undefined part of Europe that would not take effect until a corresponding political settlement on such major issues as the West Berlin and German unification issues.

West German press chief Felix von Eckardt said his government had always favored controlled limitation of military forces so long as it was linked with a political settlement.

With this clarification, Macmillan and Adenauer began the second day of their two-day talks in a more relaxed atmosphere. There was no indication that their talks so far, or those Macmillan held earlier this week with the French, had produced any new ideas to put to the Soviets at the conference table.

The British prime minister admitted on arriving in Bonn Thursday that the Western powers are "still a long way" from their goal of finding a policy to counter the Soviet threat to drive them out of West Berlin.

Demand Said Far Behind U.S. Farm Production

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Roy Battles, assistant to the master of the National Grange, says it will be 10 years before domestic and foreign demand for farm products catches up with the U.S. farmers' production abilities. He told the annual meeting of the Producers Livestock Assn. here Thursday that it also might be 10 years before farmers start receiving adequate incomes.

A British spokesman said Macmillan was misunderstood in his joint statement with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev suggesting a study of the possible reduction of forces and arms in an agreed area of Europe, coupled with an appropriate system of inspection.

British informants emphasized that Macmillan was only restating a long-standing Western policy of reducing tensions in central Europe through a system of arms reduction under effective controls.

British Foreign Office spokesman Peter Hope told newsmen Macmillan has in mind a system of controlled, inspected arms reduction in some yet undelineated part of Europe that would not take effect until a corresponding political settlement on such major issues as the West Berlin and German unification issues.

West German press chief Felix von Eckardt said his government had always favored controlled limitation of military forces so long as it was linked with a political settlement.

With this clarification, Macmillan and Adenauer began the second day of their two-day talks in a more relaxed atmosphere. There was no indication that their talks so far, or those Macmillan held earlier this week with the French, had produced any new ideas to put to the Soviets at the conference table.

The British prime minister admitted on arriving in Bonn Thursday that the Western powers are "still a long way" from their goal of finding a policy to counter the Soviet threat to drive them out of West Berlin.

Improved KC May Climb Out Of Second Division Standing

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — The Kansas City Athletics may not be in the first division in the baseball standings but from the genial manager Harry Craft on through players and organization they're sure top drawer class in courtesy and friendliness.

The A's finished seventh last year, but statistically the were much better for they were only four games out of the first division and nine games out of second place. Craft had predicted they'd win 70 games and the club won 73.

"We have a better ball club now than we had at the end of last season," Harry said in a dugout digression at Connie Mack Field here.

"We have more depth and we feel that Wayne Terwilliger, Johnny Bella and Dick Williams will give us that maneuverability and change that we need.

"We have a good representative outfield (Bob Cerv hit 38 home runs and Roger Maris added 19) and good catching (Harry Chiti and Frank House). Our infield is a little better. Hal Smith (former catcher) did a fine job for us last year at third base. With Hector Lopez at second and Demastri at short we aren't too bad off."

Craft said he'd like to get by on carrying 10 pitchers. There are only two catchers but Hal Smith, once a catcher, could take over if needed.

Among the outstanding rookie hopefuls are Lou Klimchok, infielder, Bella, an outfielder mentioned previously, and Charlie Secrest, another outfielder.

Klimchok is well-liked by Craft. The Hostetter, Pa., native hit 389 for Pocatello last year, batted out 25 home runs and drove in 112. Craft says that Klimchok "may not be ready but he'll be a major leaguer. His bat will carry him a long way."

Bella came out of the Yankee chain at Denver where he had a fine year, hitting .339. Secrest, from Mt. Union, Pa., swatted 21 homers for Little Rock.

The Athletics have added Johnny Sain, the former Brave pitching star, to their staff and he is working with the pitchers.

The Ashville Parent Teachers Assn. organized the program and contributed their help to make the banquet a success. The tables were decorated with orange and black trimmings lined with trophies accumulated by the school.

Lawrence Fullen was first to present awards, honoring his junior high basketball team, winners of the Pickaway County Junior High tournament. Later he presented awards to the high school track members, winners of the county track meet last spring.

NEXT CAME VINCE Mennettin reserve basketball coach, who awarded his reserve team. Mennettin complimented the fine play of his team and thanked the parents and friends for their contribution to make the year a successful one.

Mrs. James Courtwright then honored the members of her cheerleading corps and her girls track team that won the county track meet for the 10th straight year.

Bonnie Bainter, of the track team, was presented with a special award for her achievements in girls' track.

Russell Gregg was last in the line of awarding and proceeded to award members of his football, basketball, and baseball teams. Gregg complimented his teams for the competitive spirit and desire that they displayed during the sports seasons.

He said that although the football and basketball team did not win any championships, the future was very bright for the teams due to the big percentage of returning lettermen for future varsity play.

The baseball team was County Champions. Special awards were presented to these players. Most Improved Football Player—Steve Stover; Most Improved Basketball Player—Gary Gaines; Most Valuable Player and Player Contributing Most to the Athletic Program—Bob Hoover.

Clifton Mahaffey, school principal, served as toastmaster. He concluded the program by introducing County Superintendent George McDowell and wife. McDowell remarked on the fine sportsmanship displayed by Ashville in the sports activities.

Lahouari (Larry) Godih, lightweight boxer, is a native of Oran, Algeria.

300 Attend Annual Scioto Twp. Athletic Banquet

The annual Scioto Twp. High School Athletic Banquet was held in the school cafeteria with more than 300 persons in attendance.

Special attention was given its basketball team that tied for the Pickaway County League championship, a handed undefeated arch rival Darby Twp. its first loss of the year, 70-69, in a game not to be forgotten.

Won the consolation berth at the County Tournament with a last minute victory over Pickaway, and finally, placed two men on The Herald All-County Team.

Banquet guests included County Superintendent George M. McDowell and the Rev. Robert St. Clair, of the Commercial Point Methodist Church.

THE BANQUET WAS prepared by the Scioto Twp. Room Mothers Club. School supervising principal, Theodore Snyder, gave a short address following the meal.

He commended the teams on their sportsmanship and merits of fine play. Scioto's coaches, Joe Corbett and Ben Tusia, then gave a brief summary of the school's accomplishments of the 1958 first addition of a football team and the 1958-59 representatives of the Buffalo basketball squad.

Special awards were given to each senior participant on the basketball team. Receiving these awards were the nucleus of the Buffalo squad.

They included Dickie Melvin, Terry Little, Ronnie Little, Ernie Milburn, Paul Beavers and Jim Sealock. Melvin was the third top individual scorer in the county during the year with a 24.4 average.

Milburn led his Buffaloes in the rebound department and chipped in with a 16.88 per game scoring average.

CO-CAPTAIN TERRY Little was remembered for his fiery and inspirational play during the year. Little, Melvin and Roy Sanders became the first four-letter men in a single year in Scioto's history.

The following letters were awarded: Varsity Basketball—Dick Melvin, Terry Little, Ernie Milburn, Jim Sealock, Ronnie Little and Paul Beavers, seniors; Dick Kaiser, Roy Sanders, Bill Hoover and Dick Kerschner, juniors, and Bob Whiteside, freshman.

The senior varsity cheerleaders received a trophy which is symbolic of all Scioto Senior Cheerleaders. The banquet was followed by a dance.

rise of Rio Grande College to national acclaim. Oliver is teaching school at Northwestern, in Clark County.

His story will deal with Rio Grande's acquisition of Francis and four natural ball players that set records, both attendance and scoring wise, throughout the U. S.

The banquet is sponsored by the Kingston Parent Teachers Assn. During the festivities the most valuable player of the varsity squad will be named.

Next year's captain will be announced and presentations of awards to varsity, reserve and junior high teams will conclude the evening.

Improved KC May Climb Out Of Second Division Standing

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association
Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—The Kansas City Athletics may not be in the first division in the baseball standings but from the genial manager Harry Craft on through players and organization they're sure top drawer class in courtesy and friendliness.

The A's finished seventh last year, but statistically the were much better for they were only four games out of the first division and nine games out of second place. Craft had predicted they'd win 70 games and the club won 73.

"We have a better ball club now than we had at the end of last season," Harry said in a dugout digression at Connie Mack Field here.

"We have more depth and we feel that Wayne Terwilliger, Johnny Bella and Dick Williams will give us that maneuverability and change that we need."

"We have a good representative outfield (Bob Cerv hit 38 home runs and Roger Maris added 19) and good catching (Harry Chiti and Frank House). Our infield is a little better. Hal Smith (former catcher) did a fine job for us last year at third base. With Hector Lopez at second and Demastri at short we aren't too bad off."

Craft said he'd like to get by on carrying 10 pitchers. There are only two catchers but Hal Smith, once a catcher, could take over if needed.

Among the outstanding rookie hopefuls are Lou Klimchick, infielder, Bella, an outfielder mentioned previously, and Charlie Secrest, another outfielder.

Klimchick is well-liked by Craft. The Hostetter, Pa., native hit 389 for Pocatello last year, batted out 25 home runs and drove in 112. Craft says that Klimchick "may not be ready but he'll be a major leaguer. His bat will carry him a long way."

Bella came out of the Yankee chain at Denver where he had a fine year, hitting .339. Secrest, from Mt. Union, Pa., swatted 21 homers for Little Rock.

The Athletics have added Johnny Sain, the former Brave pitching star, to their staff and he is working with the pitchers.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

She Married an Oddball

DEAR ABBY: If I told you all that was wrong with my husband they would close down the paper. My biggest complaint is that he is stingy. He counts his money three times every night before going to bed because he thinks I might get up at night and pick his pockets. I want a store permanent for Easter so I had to borrow eight dollars off my mother. I can drive a car but he never lets me. If he takes me anywhere I have to put in a dollar for gas. He calls me "stupid" in front of the children, doesn't believe in Life Insurance and off and on he acts like a single man. Please tell me what to do. BREAKING POINT

DEAR BREAKING: Borrow bus fare from your mother and call on your clergyman. Your mate needs a refresher course in what a husband should contribute to a marriage. If you have no clergyman, consult your Family Service Assn. Their help is excellent, friendly and free.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is marrying a young man in June. He's a country boy whom she met at college. We've never met his people but we know they live on a farm. We are city people and plan to have a formal church wedding. I doubt if the MRS. has a formal or the MR. a tuxedo and I'm sure their relatives have nothing but overalls. It would be a pity to ruin the looks of our wedding. I wonder how we can be sure these people will either dress properly or stay at home. WORRIED

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

She Married an Oddball

DEAR ABBY: If I told you all that was wrong with my husband they would close down the paper. My biggest complaint is that he is stingy. He counts his money three times every night before going to bed because he thinks I might get up at night and pick his pockets. I want a store permanent for Easter so I had to borrow eight dollars off my mother. I can drive a car but he never lets me. If he takes me anywhere I have to put in a dollar for gas. He calls me "stupid" in front of the children, doesn't believe in Life Insurance and off and on he acts like a single man. Please tell me what to do.

DEAR BREAKING: Borrow bus fare from your mother and call on your clergyman. Your mate needs a refresher course in what a husband should contribute to a marriage. If you have no clergyman, consult your Family Service Assn. Their help is excellent, friendly and free.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is marrying a young man in June. He's a country boy whom she met at college. We've never met his people but we know they live on a farm. We are city people and plan to have a formal church wedding. I doubt if the MRS. has a formal or the MR. a tuxedo and I'm sure their relatives have nothing but overalls. It would be a pity to ruin the looks of our wedding. I wonder how we can be sure these people will either dress properly or stay at home.

DEAR WORRIED: You cannot get a written guarantee that these people will dress properly; neither can they be assured that YOU will dress properly. Farmers know what "formal" means so don't count your chickens before you catch the rooster.

DEAR ABBY: I came home from school and told my Grand mother that I gave my bus driver a picture of me. He is in his forties and is married to a very nice woman. Grandma said I should get the picture back. I said I gave him the picture as a person who had ridden his bus. If my Grandma is right I will ask for the picture, although I can see no harm in him having it. Do you think I should ask him? I am 14 and the picture was wallet size.

DEAR RIDER: Since you already gave him the picture, let him keep it. But in the future, it's best to "trade" pictures only with friends your own age.

DEAR ABBY: We are having the worst time with our twelve-year-old son. He shows a great talent for music. He can go to the piano and pick out a tune and he even plays the drum in the school band after only a few hours of coaching. Our problem is that we want to give him piano lessons but he doesn't want to take piano. He wants to take guitar. My husband says a guitar is no musical instrument and he isn't throwing out good money on that fiddle Billy nonsense. I say let him take piano for a few years and then we'll give him a guitar. I'd like your opinion.

DEAR MOTHER: The guitar IS a musical instrument and a good one. If your son wants guitar lessons—give him guitar lessons.

NOTE TO MARUEEN: One whisker doesn't make a beard. Give him another chance and get off his back.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.
